Foreword

This yearbook was prepared amid the clatter of demolition machinery, the incessant vibration of bull-dozers, the sight of gaping excavations, and piles of rubble. From the small office in 105A open space was visible for the first time in over fifty years.

It won't last long. We look forward to lovely homes, shops, walks, and green places to refresh the body and mind.

Allegheny High students have much to look forward to. Our community is being rejuvenated, and our school will share in the rennaissance. Onward and upward goes Allegheny.

Principal--Dr. Felton

The fundamentals of high school education are dramatized and exhibited most effectively at graduation time. The qualities of leadership, service, and character come to full fruition as twelfth grade students realize that only a short time remains until they must face the world beyond the confines of the school. Many new and additional responsibilities will be demanded; much time and effort will be expected. Therefore, when teachers, counselors, and principals compliment and congratulate a class of graduates, they are in reality expressing an earnest desire for another group of young people to be truly representative of the school. It is also the wish of the faculty that the lessons and responsibilities learned will make each and everyone eminently successful.

To the class of 1963-64 this is your principal's wish—may the opportunities be offered which will give you the chance to prove your learning.

Paul E. Felton, Ph.D.

Vice Principal-Mr. Rockwell

Good luck
Bob Rockwell

My heartiest congratulations to the 1963 graduates of Allegheny High School. These congratulations are extended to your parents whose interest, effort, and often sacrifice have made this graduation possible, and to your various teachers who have provided guidance, inspiration, and the tools of learning.

This graduation is but the end of the first stage of your real education. Whether your formal education stops now or continues through college and professional school the processes of education continue throughout a lifetime. The human mind, as long as it is healthy, never loses its capacity to absorb new ideas and to learn new skills.

Because of the adaptability and the durability of the human body it daily becomes more obvious that the greatest resources of this nation are its human resources. It is into this pool of human resources which you now place the skills and knowledge attained. This is full realization that their ultimate development is limited only by your personal desires and ambitions.

In a few words then, the direction you take and the distance you go is largely up to you.

Counselor

Miss Helen McKeone

Good luck
Helen L. McKeone

Miss McKeone, Counselor

One of the greatest problems facing a high school student is what career he should follow after graduating. It is because of Miss McKeone, our counselor, that we are able to solve these problems. She offers her advice on colleges and jobs and helps us to prepare for them. Every year she has a conference with each student to schedule his classes for the next year. It is also her job to inform us of the scholarship and aptitude tests that we should take. For those of us who plan to further our education she invites faculty members from colleges to speak about the courses they offer. She also arranges for us to visit the college or hospital we are interested in attending. Busy as she is, she not only welcomes but encourages students to come to her office whenever they feel they need her help.

Activities Director

Mrs. Mary Fani

Mrs. Fani is our all-purpose teacher, advisor, arranger, and dispenser of aspirin and bandaids. In addition to teaching two classes Mrs. Fani helps the student committees to arrange dances. She also is responsible for scheduling auditorium programs, the club schedule, and the programs of the Student Council.

Mrs. Young is our swimming pool matron. She distributes towels and stylish (???) suits to the girls and listens to their moans of complaint about the fit.

Cafeteria Staff

Julianne Patterson, Henrietta Ramsey, Anna Eads, Anna Goyke, Anna Kasprzyk, Anna Smith, Clara Schwab, Rose Beck.

Custodial Staff

Custodial and Cafeteria Personnel

None of us can forget how invaluable the services of our cafeteria, custodial, and pool staffs were. These ladies and gentlemen were always ready to aid us. The cafeteria staff efficiently prepared our lunches. Our custodial staff was always busy keeping our building and its grounds clean and attractive. And last, but not least, our swimming matrons kept our pool and suits clean and ready for use. These staffs made our life at Allegheny comfortable and enjoyable.

George Lozos

George was an outstanding student in both his studies and his activities. He served on the yearbook staff and became the editor in his senior year. Although much of his time was occupied by Mu Alpha Theta and by practicing for the swimming and cross country teams, he always managed to keep his name on the honor roll. George's talents and hard work were recognized when he was tapped for the National Honor Society in his junior year. Since chemistry was one of his favorite subjects at Allegheny, George intends to continue with his studies in college and become a chemist.

Shirley Ann Lutty

Shirley was a very active person. She was a member of the National Honor Society, editor of the Wah Hoo, and a member of the Student Council. She was also a member of the Girls Leaders Club, the Wahettes, and was active in intramural sports. She participated in the variety show and senior class play. Her hobby was dancing. Her favorite subjects were shorthand and transcription which will help her in the her future plans of becoming a secretary.

Patricia McGovern

"Dolly's" activities consisted of being secretary of the Student Council, a reporter on the Wah Hoo staff and a member of the Girls Leaders Club. She participated in intramural sports and the senior class play. Her favorite subjects were bookkeeping and English. After leaving A.H.S. Dolly plans to become a certified public accountant. Besides dancing and going to Cowley, she keeps herself busy with church activities. More than anything Dolly will miss Mr. Lyman's bookkeeping class.

Elayne R. Minzenberg

Elayne was one of the pretty co-heads of the Majorettes. She was also a member of the Choir Club, Wah Hoo Staff, the yearbook staff, the History Club, and the Drama Club. Elayne also found time for intramural sports participation. Of all her honors and activities Elayne is most proud of being selected to the National Honor Society and participating in the Senior Class Play. Her favorite subjects are English and gym. Her future plans are to attend Slippery Rock State Teachers College to study English.

Roy Leslie Morrow

His participation in many school activities has made Roy well known among his classmates. He has been a member of Student Council for three years and also Allegheny's representative to All-City Student Council. In his senior year, Roy served on the Senior Prom Committee and was elected president of the Future Teachers of America He showed his talent on the trombone by playing in orchestra, band, brass choir, and in our variety shows. Even with his many extra-curricular activities, Roy is always on the honor roll. With such qualities of character, scholarship, leadership, and service, it is no surprise that he was tapped for National Honor Society in his junior year. Roy plans to enter college in the fall, and we wish him only the best of luck.

Good Luck George

George Peiritsch

Being athletically inclined, "Bullwinkle" participated in a number of sports. He excelled in playing tackle for our football team. With the help of George, the Indians succeeded in taking the Section II championship of 1963. He also was active on the swimming team, and will be remembered for his swift and powerful free style. George's favorite subjects include mechanical drawing and history. He also took part in the candy sale skit for the senior class. George intends to enter the service upon graduation.

Helen Petrack

Pleasant, energetic, and popular all describe our head cheerleader. She brightened our spirits and cheered our victorious team to section championship. Helen belonged to Choir Club, Usherettes and was elected Vice President of the senior class. She demonstrated her athletic ability on the gym team and participated in the variety show. Because of her unselfish activities, she was selected for National Honor Society. As secretary of her homeroom, she knows what lies ahead in her career as a secretary.

William Ripley

"Rip" participated in several phases of school life and contributed much to Allegheny. As a member of the football team he helped the Indians win the section title. Since he is one of our athletically inclined students, he played on the baseball and basketball teams. "Rip" also served in the Student Council and was a member of the Choir Club. His favorite subjects at Allegheny were history and English. He says that after graduation he will miss his teachers and the fun he had in school. "Rip" plans to further his education at college.

Donald Sheridan Vtipil

"Active" is the only word we can use to describe Don. Don contributed his fine swimming ability to the team for three years. Besides belonging to the Math, College, and Drama Club, he was sports editor for the Wah Hoo. His many activities interfered with some of his studies. However, by consistently earning high grades, he was rewarded for his scholarship in 12B by being elected to the National Honor Society. To attend college is Don's highest dream.

Football '63 - '64

Our Allegheny gridders went "all the way" in Section 2 this season with an undefeated record. After promising showings at the exhibition games, they went on to win 5 and tie 1. The Injuns boasted a strong, stalwart defense, and an accurate, pin-pointed air attack offense. In their quest for the City Championship, the Indians faced an exceptionally strong Westinghouse squad. They met at South High Field on Nov. 9. The Bulldogs' single-wing offense overwhelmed our defense and went on to score 46 points to Allegheny's lone 6.

Despite the loss of many senior starters next year, the positions will be ably filled by juniors and sophomores who gained experience this season. Allowing them to play throughout the game prepares them for next season. The team next year looks very promising and capable, even enough to capture the City Crown.

The basketball team, under the leadership of Coach Fehrenbach, started right in with the business of winning early this year, taking two of the three exhibitions from Allderdice and South, while losing to Stowe.

The regular season started with the Indians scalping Perry and Langley. Their antics were stopped shortly at South Hills, as the Tigers reached the century mark. The Indians then defeated Oliver, Allegheny Vocational, and Connelley. Allegheny then blew a chance to end the half in second place as they fell at the hands of Carrick.

The second half was an exact re-run of the first half. Allegheny finished the season with two victories over every team except those of South Hills and Carrick. The Indians finished in third place with a ten and four league record. Looking back at the scores we see that the small total of thirteen points stood between Allegheny's third place finish and a possible championship.

Wait until next year.

The cross country team has been organized at Allegheny for only two years. Many students will remember watching the team practicing in West Park. This grueling workout amounted to three miles a day.

The season opened with a loss to Schenley and Oliver in a tri-meet. Perry and Peabody were victorious in another tri-meet. At Fox Chapel the team again lost. Another away meet was with North Hills to which we lost. The Indians opened up a homestand at Riverview by beating Oliver. The season closed with losses to Fifth Avenue and Allderdice. With only two years of experience the team hopes to do better next year.

Baseball 62-63

The "Injuns" proved to be a dangerous nine on the diamond last year. They began the season with two exhibition losses to Peabody and North Allegheny. In regular competition, however, they fought to compile a season record of nine victories and three defeats. The total season record, including exhibitions was ten and five.

Our new coach, Mr. Feinert, vows to "win 'em all" in 64. His optimism is justified by the ability of the present squad. Many of the starters are returning, and the pitching promises to be above average. With a little bit of luck and the players doing their best, the team should come through even better than that of '63.

The Allegheny "aquamen" this year were a great improvement over the discouraging team of last year. They swept their three exhibition meets with Westinghouse, Fifth Ave. and Connelly Vocational. The win over Westinghouse was most satisfying. In regular section competition, the Indians won two and lost four. The victories came over our old rivals, Oliver and South.

This year's team had quite a few sophomores as the response to tryouts early in the season was the best Coach Allen had ever seen. These sophomores will return next year with valuable experience and ability. However, several seniors who have starting positions in events will be graduating. Next season's success will depend on the present juniors and sophomores and any new talent acquired next year.

Girls Sports

Girls sports at Allegheny come in a variety. The girls at A. H. S. take advantage of the opportunity that is given them to participate in the activities offered.

Intramural sports, which include soccer, basketball, volley ball, and badminton, are very popular among the girls. They use their spare time before and after school to organize their teams, compete against each other in playing, and strive for the championship title.

Besides intramural sports A. H. S. offers two varsity teams for the girls. They are the basketball team and the gymnastic team. These require both ability and plenty of spare time for practice. Practice makes perfect and the girls at Allegheny certainly set this as their goal. It shows in their performance.

National Honor Society

Character, Service, Leadership, and Scholarship are the foundation on which membership to the Society is based.

Members are selected by a committee of the faculty who feel that these students meet the requirements. Once a student has been accepted he realizes the importance of the honor. He is now being looked at by the entire student body as one they would like to follow.

Here at Allegheny the duties of N. H. S. members are small; yet election to the Society has great prestige. After becoming a member it is not easy to forget how hard one worked to achieve that goal and how much harder he must work to maintain it.

A true member in the National Honor Society will not be satisfied with just belonging. He must prove the worth of his selection by displaying the four basic qualities throughout his life.

Student Council

Throughout history, when men first banded together to form tribes, villages, and civilizations, there has always been a need for leadership or guidance. Today, although many different societies and institutions prevail, leadership and administration are an evident and necessary part. Allegheny High School is but one of these many institutions. Like all the others it too needs some type of government. This is provided by the Student Council.

The Student Council serves the school in a variety of ways. To promote the name and ideals of the school and to express the feeling of the student body are some of the duties of this governing body. These duties and obligations are exercised by members of this council. The success or failure of the Student Council depends upon the effort and enthusiasm displayed by these young leaders. Although some students achieve higher academic records than others, the representatives of such an organization as Student Council are the elite of the student body. A position as important as Student Council representative can only be filled by a student with character, leadership, scholarship and service.

Drill Team

The Drill Team has been at Allegheny for only four years; yet its impressions and originality will be long lasting.

The Wahettes, as they are better known, used some funds set aside for uniforms, bought material, and each girl made her own outfit. When they appear at home games, pep assemblies, and parades there is no mistake as to their identity for they are dressed in red and blue from head to toe.

Each Wahette realizes that her job is just as important as the next. They prove this by always attending the long hard practices which pay off in the end when they appear chanting "We like Injuns."

Majorettes

Many times throughout the year the high-stepping majorettes could be seen in action. With heads high and batons gleaming they appeared at pep rallies, instilling much spirit into the student body. Through sun and rain the majorettes strutted at football games, twirling to a song of victory. When they marched in parades, it was certain that the Allegheny majorettes would make a good appearance as they performed to the music provided by the band. Color, pageantry, rhythm, and spirit are all symbolic of the majorette unit.

Cheerleaders

The cheerleaders of Allegheny are chosen annually from approximately fifty candidates. A Cheerleaders Club meets the second semester of each school year. At this time the older members of the squad train the tenth graders to prepare them for the June try-outs. Eight regulars and two substitutes are selected.

Cheerleaders are expected to maintain above average grades in both citizenship and scholarship in order to remain on the squad.

Cheerleaders perform at all football games and home basketball games, variety shows, pep assemblies, and the Allegheny County Cheerleading Contest. A major part of the cheerleaders' job is to help maintain the fine pep and spirit of Allegheny High School.

Girls Leaders is sponsored by Miss Kruman, and meets every Friday morning during the first period. This club trains the girls to aid the teachers in their gym classes or to take over the class completely in the teacher's absence. To be a member in the club a girl must be in the eleventh or twelfth grade, and have an "A" or "B" in gym.

Robed Choir

The Robed Choir is always on hand to participate in any assembly program held at school.

The Choir Club meets on Fridays during the first period. The members of the choir are chosen by Miss Heberling from her selected classes. Each singer represents the best in his class.

Allegheny students are familiar only with the abilities of the choir in school events, but it participates in many varied activities throughout the school year.

Singing at the All City Spring Festival programs, commencements, and variety shows keeps the members very busy. In many other programs representatives are sent to take the place of the complete choir. It is always a pleasure to listen to our Robed Choir.

Automation

Automation

Allegheny has the distinction of having the only automation class in the city. Students from other schools also attend. Only a few are selected to study this course. It is a study of electronics, physics, instruments, and controls systems. During the second semester lecturers from various instrument sccieties give talks. In addition to the class study there is laboratory work. Students get practical experience building projects and testing and using electronic devices. The morning class is pre-engineering physics and has more class work. In the afternoon is the pre-technical physics which has more lab work.

Distributive Education

Distributive Education

The distributive education class makes a careful study of the various phases of retailing. The class helps to increase the salesmanship of its students and is based on school-industry relations. The students have classes in the morning; in the afternoon they go to their various places of employment. This valuable experience gives them an opportunity to earn while they learn.

Youth injects talent and initiative in putting out a challenging paper, The Wah Hoo.

To keep the presses of our own little world of journalism humming smoothly here at Allegheny High might prove quite a toilsome duty, but for Editor Shirley Lutty and her dependable assistant, Karen Sadar. This proved to be quite an interesting experience.

Each month the arduous work of the Wah Hoo staff was presented to the student body in the form of the Wah Hoo Newspaper, which consisted of all types of informative articles, organized and plotted to satisfy its readers.

The small problems that arose seemed as common as those that occur with nationwide syndicated newspapers; however, our advisor, Mr. Philip Feinert, appeared on the scene to give us an appreciated helping hand.

The Yearbook Staff

Producing a yearbook is a big job. It demands careful planning, hours of work, and patient collecting of hundreds of pictures and bits of copy. Financially it is the most expensive project undertaken by the school. For that reason we are grateful to students and friends whose support made this book possible.

The above group deserves the credit for bringing this yearbook to the student body. Typists, writers, bookkeepers, artists, and photographers have given their time to make it a success. Their reward is the realization that this book will last as long as Allegheny High School endures.

The Mathematics Club

The Mathematics Club, open to all students interested in mathematics, discusses topics not generally covered in the class room. Unusual problems, puzzles, and games are studied both from the standpoint of finding solutions and methods as well as discovering underlying mathematical principles.

The history of mathematics in relation to cultural and technological development is also discussed. Members learn that mathematics is not a dull routine but a constantly growing branch of human knowledge.

Brass Choir

The Brass Choir is made up of the members of the band and orchestra who play the brass instruments—trumpet, trombone, french horn, baritone, and tuba.

The activities of the Brass Choir are rather limited. Its chief activity is the playing of Christmas carols during the Christmas season.

The choir will lose several members by graduation and their loss will be noticed in February. However this has happened before and there have always been replacements.

Scholastic Coaching Staff

The scholastic coaching staff was created for the purpose of aiding students in their academic work, and the results show a clear success. Eighty percent of the students were brought up in their grades by the staff. The coaching staff consists of Miss Cohen, the faculty advisor, Karen Bickel, the student advisor, and the coaches, students with above average academic ability.

The Service Squad

The Service Squad consists of seniors who have achieved enough credits to graduate and who would like to devote some time and service to their school.

The squad gives aid in the library, the cafeteria, and the halls. Members also help the counselors in the performance of their duties.

Students at Allegheny appreciate the job done by the Service Squad and some hope to become a member when they are eligible.

Future Teachers of America

F.T.A. is dedicated to service in the school and individual exposure to professional training and aspects of teaching. The group served as open house hosts and sponsored a dance with the Photography Club. Members manage a homeroom until the substitute arrives. Visits were made to local elementary and junior high schools for professional introduction. Visits are envisioned to teacher training institutions.

Junior Red Cross Club

The Junior Red Cross Club is an organization open to all students. Sponsored by Mrs. Papas, it is an activity from which others benefit. The Red Cross Club goes outside Allegheny to provide hospitals and other institutions with entertainment and services. Since the Junior Red Cross has chapters in many Pittsburgh schools, representatives from each school hold regular meetings together.

Bridge Club

The Bridge Club, sponsored by Miss Cohen, is open to all students who would like to learn how to play. After studying the basic principles of the game, the club time is used to put them into practice. In this way, under Miss Cohen's guidance, the members find their mistakes and learn the techniques of the game. The club also helps to improve the skills of those who already know how to play. It is a challenging recreation for the players both during the club's meetings and in their social lives outside of school.

History Club
Mrs. Bergen

The History Club operates for members to enjoy history, to promote a keener interest in current affairs, and to understand the importance of past events and decisions to the present and those of the present to the future.

The club has been making a study of the U. S. S. R. by reports from members on the various sectors of culture in the U.S.S.R. Some meetings have discussed or informally debated current topics. The Christmas program centered about Christmas in other lands and the origins of several customs.

The club has a pen pal in Japan. At the first meeting in 1964, the members suggested several new and interesting ideas for club activity.

The Audio-Visual Aids Squad
Mr. Kunze

The Audio-Visual Aids Squad is organized to be of assistance to teachers in using the audio-visual aids. They transfer the materials to be used and where it is the desire of the teacher they operate the projectors. This is an excellent opportunity for boys and girls to become acquainted with and learn to operate the various devices.

The Swim Club

The Allegheny High School Swim Club meets weekly at poolside to aid beginning boy swimmers. The standard Red Cross program of instruction is employed, and certificates of course completion are awarded to successful youngsters. Stroke variation and diving lessons are also provided for those boys who show proficiency.

Art Teacher Unveils Portrait Of Kennedy

Funds For Cancelled Allegheny High Dance, Other Donations Provide Memorial

An art teacher at Allegheny High School, commissioned by students to paint a portrait of President John F. Kennedy, unveiled his work today in a special commemorative assembly.

Peter Calaboyias, 24, told the students before the unveiling that his oil portrait of the late President was painted "the way I saw him."

The portrait is approximately two and one-half times life size.

In the assembly the students were shown a film entitled, "An American Tragedy," part of a public service history series sponsored by Kaufmann's Store, showing the events of Nov. 22, 1963, and the days following.

They were told how Mr. Calaboyias came to paint the picture that will be placed in the hall at Allegheny High School.

A student dance had been scheduled for Friday, Nov. 22, the day the President was shot. When the stu-

do something to commemorate President Kennedy.

To their surprise the student body responded by adding to the fund.

The students then commissioned Mr. Calaboyias, who spent a month doing the portrait from several magazine pictures.

Mr. Calaboyias, a graduate of Pennsylvania State University, has had two one-man art shows in the Pittsburgh area.

Five Teams Show Unbeaten Records In City Title Runs

Peabody, Westinghouse Pace Sec. 1; S. Hills, Carrick, Allegheny Top Sec. 2

By PAUL A. KURTZ

Moving into the second week of Dist. 8-A competition, the Pittsburgh Public Senior High Basketball League shows five unbeaten teams in its two divisional titular drives.

Peabody, last season's Sec. 1 and league champion, and Westinghouse are the first-place co-sharers in their rivalry. Section 2 shows three unbeaten teams in South Hills, last year's divisional winner; Carrick and also Allegheny.

Eight more contests are scheduled in this circuit for 3:15 p. m. tomorrow. Section 2 is featured

Richie, 6-2 center, and Keith Edmonds, 6-1 forward, are sophomores who are expected to provide strong defensive work to the Indians in their Sec. 2 bid. Harry Thompson is a 5-11 junior who is rounding out the present starters.

The Indians' mentor also hopes for steady reserve play from Ronald Ransom, Richard Moore, Robert Cunningham, John Bazy, Willie Martin and John Urbanek.

DON BETTS of Allegheny High grabs for football but it bounces away on pass from Quarterback John Murlis. At right is John Richardson of Oliver. Allegheny defeated Oliver, 20-6, in City League game.

Allegheny Leads Sec. 2 City League

Indians Defeat Oliver, 20-6; Gladstone Bows

Allegheney High is in a familiar spot today in Section 2 of the City League.

That would be first place, a perch it holds following a 20-6 win over Oliver yesterday while previously unbeaten Gladstone was losing to Carrick, 12-7, in a loud upset.

The win put the Indians' record at 3-0-1 to Oliver's 2-1 mark. Then comes Gladstone 2-1-1 and Langley at 2-1.

Fifth Avenue edged Perry, 19-12, in yesterday's only other league game.

Ollis Townes scored Allegheny's first touchdown on a 55-yard pass-run play from John Murlis. Bill Ripley and Kenny Owens scored the other TDs.

THE SITE: PHYSICAL ASPECTS AND GENERAL CHARACTER.
Allegheny Center, approximately 100 acres, is on an inclined plane sloping northward from the Allegheny River. There are wooded hills to the north. Two major buildings exist on the site proposed for the Public Square: the Buhl Planetarium and a branch of the Carnegie Library. These will remain. The character of the site will be changed by the planning and construction of commercial and residential structures as a part of the current redevelopment project. The redevelopment project will contain 1350 apartment units in buildings six to eight stories high. These structures will be constructed of pre-cast concrete and finished in a buff limestone color. Trim will be anodized aluminum of dark bronze color. Outside of the "loop road systems" there will be 220 town houses. The major commercial area will be at the south and will include a six-story professional office building. Parking for automobiles will be constructed under the commercial area. (See Exhibits A and B.)
